

THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 1883.

PRICE OF DAILY JOURNAL.
12 CENTS PER WEEK.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

BREVITIES

Dave Evans is in from Antelope.
Yesterday was a very dull day around town.
Jamison is going below in a day or two.
Decoration Day falls on Wednesday this year.
U. S. Marshall Corbett was in town yesterday.
Mrs. Pierce Evans will return home this morning.
Reno should be up and doing on that Military Post matter.
Senator Marker's condition is not at all encouraging to his friends.
D. A. Bender and Col. A. C. Ellis were over from Carson yesterday.
C. J. Brookins will leave for the East next Monday, and will be gone six weeks.
The Ede-Sullivan case was called in the District Court yesterday, but postponed until to-morrow.
Assessor Stoddard has finished the work of assessing up north, from Buffalo Salt Marsh this way.
If you wish to send a pleasant evening go to the "Ladies Aid Society" entertainment at Kimball's Hall this evening.
Senator J. Minor Taylor has been for several days and is now quite ill at his residence in the Gould & Curry office in Virginia City.
Governor Adams, who has for a number of days been quite ill with dyspepsia and jaundice is slowly improving. He hopes to be on his feet again in a few days.
Unless Virginia improves and business picks up the telegraph company will soon move the quadruplex and other apparatus to Reno and have a big force here.
Chairman Fogus says that immediately after the Grand Jury found indictments in the Savings Bank cases that Mr. Leete suggested to him the employment of extra counsel to assist in the prosecution. Thought Leete was a reformer.
It is not true that every farmer in this county will be able to lift his mortgage this year, but it is true that Chase & Hayes are likely to put one on their place if they continue to give every farmer and all their other patrons such good drinks and cigars as they do at present prices.

Ladies' Fair.

The following programme for the Ladies' Fair, at Kimball's Hall, has been prepared for this evening:
Chorus—"Auld Lang Syne".....
By ye folks of old time
Recitation.....Bertie Palmer
Duet—"No Sir".....
Miss Flora Finkelson and Mr. Cook
Recitation—"Jane Conquest".....
Mrs. O. Sessions
Tableaux.....
Singing.....By ye ladies of olden time
Solo.....Miss Fanny Russell
Recitation.....Mr. Lycock
The Little Workers.....
The Little Girls.....
Overture.....
The Silent Bell.....
A quartette of mixed voices.
Solo—"Daphne Bay".....Mrs. Pownall
Chorus from "La Mascotte".....
"Friend and Foe."
Of the singing in this delightful comedy, which will be performed here on Thursday, April 26, by the Scenical Dramatic Company, the New York Music and Drama says: "The seven songs introduced by Mr. Scenical are: 'I Love Music,' 'Moonlight at Killarney,' 'Irish Potatoes,' 'Over the Mountains,' 'Mrs. Regan's Party,' 'The Poor Irish Minister,' and 'Peek-a-Boo!' Some are sentimental, some comic; all were enthusiastically applauded. Going home in the street cars, after the performance, all the passengers sang, howled or whistled 'Peek-a-Boo!'"

The Proper Feeling.

Judge Boardman thinks of requesting Judge Rising to preside in the Savings Bank cases. There has long been a bitter enmity existing between the Judge and Kinkadee, of ten years standing, and while the Judge would undoubtedly construe and decide the law as it should be, there would likely be scenes in court, which may as well be avoided.
Expensive Tree Growing.
In consequence of the large quantity of alkali in the soil along the Humboldt in Elko county trees do not do well and it is impossible to keep them alive. The Railroad Company is planting trees at Carlin, and bringing earth from the Truckee river to plant them in. Several carloads of soil have been taken up the road for that purpose recently.
Soul of the Assessor.
"Lest, list, oh, list to the question list."

CONKLING AND HIS SISTER.

Mrs. Uhler Refused Permission to See Her Children.

New York, April 16th.—The Herald says George W. Conkling did not leave the city one week ago, as his counsel believed he had. He took his departure Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, taking the train on the New York Central Railroad, en route for Reno, Nev. Conkling was accompanied by Mrs. Uhler. It seems Conkling expected to get away on the 7th instant, the day on which counsel thought he had left, but Mrs. Uhler proved a stumbling-block, for she delayed the departure from day to day upon one ground and another, and to the last she protested against being taken from the city. The scene where the encounter between her brother and lover took place appeared to have a fascination for her, and she frequently, on one pretext or another, visited the flats in which Havestick was killed.
SECURING DELAY.
She would appear resigned and express her willingness to start by the evening train, but as the time to make the final preparations for starting approached, she would declare that she was too ill to undertake the journey, and postpone her departure till next day. On two occasions she left the house where she has been residing with her maid since the tragedy, and did not return until the next day, passing the night at one of the hotels. Her brother was greatly depressed at these repeated failures to get started for home. At last, Saturday afternoon, to her brother's great relief, Mrs. Uhler declared she would be ready to start that evening. Preparations were made, and as the hour of departure drew near she wept violently, calling repeatedly on the name of her dead lover, and declaring that she would not leave for the West before seeing her children. Mr. Conkling's counsel, Colonel King, earnestly urged her to accompany her brother, and she was finally prevailed to enter a close carriage with Conkling and a gentleman who has been his warm friend throughout the trouble, and the carriage was driven to the Grand Central depot. After getting aboard the train Mrs. Uhler became almost hysterical, and cried out that she would not go. At times force became necessary to restrain her from leaving the car.
EFFORTS TO SEE HER CHILDREN.
Despite her determination to do so, Mrs. Uhler was unable to greet her little children before going away with her brother, but she made a desperate effort to accomplish her desire, for, accompanied by her maid, on the 14th instant, she went to Lebanon, Pa., where her husband and children are residing with Mr. Uhler's parents. Upon ringing the bell of the Uhler mansion, the door was opened by a servant girl who had been in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. Uhler before their separation. The girl at once recognized Mrs. Uhler, and, acting probably upon instructions given to her by her employer, she shut the door in Mrs. Uhler's face. The unfortunate woman became almost frantic, and, striding up and down the piazza she gave vent to her anguish in heartrending shrieks, clamoring to be admitted and the entrance to her home. The door at last was opened, and she was allowed to see her children. No attention was paid to her cries by those within the house, and finally her maid succeeded in calming her.
SHE SEES HER CHILDREN WITH THEIR FATHER.
Just before leaving the place, Mrs. Uhler saw her little ones driving past with their father. She held out her arms imploringly to them, and cried out for them to stop, but either the father and children did not see or hear her, or pretended they did not, and they were soon out of sight of the heart-broken mother, probably forever. It was with no little effort the maid was enabled to get her mistress to leave the spot and come to the city. Those who have been intimately associated with Mrs. Uhler for the past week are under the impression that the poor woman's mind has been shattered by the shock she received last night of the tragedy, and her sufferings and remorse which have followed.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

THE FAIR TONIGHT.

It is pretty well understood that the advertised Fair opens this evening. It is under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church. The name adopted explains the motive and work of this society. It has been in existence about eight years and has rendered needed aid to the church above-mentioned. Supplies for the Sabbath School children have often been procured by donations from its treasury. Repairs and insurance on the church building from the same source. The Christmas fund of the little ones has always been increased by the society and sometimes a sum has been added to the amount subscribed for the Pastor's salary. The ladies have succeeded in securing a small amount towards a much needed parsonage, and the result of their labors at this time will be added to this reserved fund. A lot of home-made articles, both useful and ornamental, will be for sale at this Fair at a very reasonable price. There is to be a table where all sorts of "notions" will be sold. The first ice cream of the season will be obtainable at another stand (how the folks are wishing for a warm evening), and lemonade, "made in the shade" by a very pretty maid, will be dispensed to the thirsty. A stand will be filled with flowers fresh from the gardens of the society's kind friends who live in more favored climates. Small and large bouquets will be at the demand of the many who so dearly love flowers. A postoffice will be under the charge of obliging young ladies who promise that no one will be disappointed who applies at their window for a missive. A real letter is guaranteed. The refreshment stand will be well filled, and lunch will be served at any time. The hall will be open after two o'clock in the afternoon. No admittance and everybody cordially invited to call and see what's going on. Those who can make it convenient to attend in the evening will receive their money's worth of entertainment.

WHITE HOUSE ADVERTISEMENT.

White House.

WE ARE NOW OFFERING IMMENSE LINES OF the very latest styles of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

Having opened during the past two weeks one hundred cases of the most desirable and reasonable goods to be found East and West. Our inducements are Reliable Goods & Reasonable Prices.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE, ABRAHAM BROTHERS, Popular One Price Clothiers, next door to the Postoffice.

S. JACOBS, MERCHANT TAILOR.

GRAND OPENING! For Spring and Summer Trade.

S. JACOBS, MERCHANT TAILOR, Takes pleasure in informing his patrons, and the public generally, that he has increased his already large stock of

Spring and Summer Suitings

From the First Importers of this Coast and the East.

I AM NOW PREPARED TO MAKE UP SUITS AT PRICES THAT will astonish the people of this vicinity. In addition to my large stock of Cloths I have secured a fine assortment of

Gents' Furnishing Goods, INCLUDING HATS AND GLOVES,

The Best ever brought to Nevada. This is no trap to catch customers. Give me a call and convince yourself of the truth.

S. JACOBS, MERCHANT TAILOR.

F. LEVY & BRO.

NEW GOODS ARE COMING IN AT

F. LEVY & BRO'S.

JAMISON'S ADVERTISEMENT.

Jamison's Cash Store! Do Not Fail to Call on Me.

NEW GOODS EVERY DAY! UNLAUNDRIED SHIRTS.

Gents' Furnishing Goods, the Latest Novelties in Neckties, Embroideries, Silk Handkerchiefs, Corsets, Hosiery, Collars, Etc., Etc.

NEW PARASOLS! NEW HATS!

All Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Rates in Order to Prepare for my Spring Goods.

CALL AT—

The New Dry Goods Store,

Commercial Row, Two Doors from Postoffice.

THE CASH STORE. S. M. JAMISON.

Commercial Row, Two Doors from Postoffice.

THE CASH STORE. S. M. JAMISON.

Commercial Row, Two Doors from Postoffice.

THE CASH STORE. S. M. JAMISON.

Commercial Row, Two Doors from Postoffice.

THE CASH STORE. S. M. JAMISON.

Commercial Row, Two Doors from Postoffice.

THE CASH STORE. S. M. JAMISON

